FOR THE

Reformed Church

IN THE UNITED STATES,
FOR THE YEAR OF OUR LORD,

1887

QUESTION.—What is thy only comfort in life and death?

ANSWER.—That I, with body and soul, both in life and death, am not my own, but belong unto my faithful Saviour Jesus Christ, who, with His precious blood, hath fully satisfied for all my sins, and delivered me from all the power of the devil; and so preserves me, that, without the will of my Heavenly Father, not a hair can fall from my head; yea, that all things must be subservient to my salvation; and therefore, by His Holy Spirit, He also assures me of eternal life, and makes me sincerely willing and ready henceforth to live unto Him.

"Rejoicing in hope."—Rom. xii: 12.

WILL you be my partner, pretty maiden?
Now the air with music gay is laden,
 Ringing clear.
See how many little feet are glancing
In swift-measure, welcoming with dancing
 This New Year.

Out of the doors the silver snow is flying,
And the bitter, winter winds are crying
 Loud the while;
Yet we meet New Year with joy and
 laughter,
Soon we know will Winter pass, and after Spring will smile.

At our feet the snow—the clouds above us.
Is it true? and can the good God love us?
 Wait and see.
Break the clouds—blue Heaven with sunshine glowing!
Melt the snow—blue Heaven of violets flowing Fair and free.

Then will birds sing out, forgetting sadness;
Daisies bloom, streams dance for very gladness;
 Past their banks.
We know better than the birds and daisies;
We will be beforehand with our praises
 Giving thanks.

Thanks in Winter, for the Summer's glory;
Thanks in dull days, for the joyful story
 Yet to come;
In life's bitterness, for Heaven's sweetness;
In life's exile, for the dear completeness
 Of our Home.

EPIPHANY.

THIS festival, which has been observed in the Church of Christ from the earliest times, always occurs on the sixth day of January. The word Epiphany means a manifestation. The cycle of the Epiphany Sundays begins with the manifestation of the infant Redeemer to the Magi, or "Wise men from the East." Epiphany Sunday proper was anciently known as "The Feast of the Three Kings." After it follows, in order, our Lord's appearance in the Temple at the age of twelve years, the manifestation of His glory in the miracle at Cana, the exhibition of His power in healing the sick and stilling the tempest on the sea. These, His mighty works, were truly epiphanies of His divine majesty and power, and through them "He manifested forth His glory."

THE NEW YEAR.

How time flies! Here we are at the beginning of 1887. We enter upon a new section of our journey. We have again fifty-two weeks, twelve months, and 365 days before us. What an amount of good or evil we may do this year! Let us begin, continue and end all our doings this year in Christ. Then when it is passed, we shall look back upon it with joy and not with sorrow.

☞ THERE are many cloudy days. There are also many bright, sunny days. Each may have some special mission for us. But whether the clouds lower, or the sun shines, there need not be any lack of sunshine in our hearts, nor any lack of power to make others happy by the brightness of our lives.

THE JUBILEE YEAR.

THIS year, 1887, is the Jubilee Year of our College at Lancaster, Pa. Why? Because it is the Centennial Year of Franklin College, and the Semi-Centennial Year of Franklin and Marshall College, the oldest Institution of the kind in our Church. This is an important event and due prominence should be given to it during the year. We have therefore devoted a greater part of the space in the Almanac this year to the interests of the College. In doing so, we hope to call the attention of the Church to its needs and its claims upon it, as well as its honored history and successful career. Let it be indeed a Jubilee Year for it.

☞ AN opportunity presented to us and neglected may never come back, or it may return and we be unable to make use of it. The circumstance meeting the prepared man is what makes the useful opportunity, and when either falls out of its place the whole is lost. "To-day—hear—harden not."

☞ It should make us hopeful of the future to hear of the work that is done and the money that is expended in education and benevolence; and especially to learn how it is growing with the years. On the other hand, we get to understand how persistent and implacable evil is, since it can resist so stubbornly all that is done to break it down. But the statistics of charities that are constantly appearing should prevent faith from even faltering.

ONLY, O Lord, in Thy dear love,
Fit us for Thy perfect rest above;
And help us this and every day,
To live more nearly as we pray.

FEBRUARY.

FRANKLIN COLLEGE.

Franklin College was incorporated by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, on the 10th of March, 1787, as "The German College and Charity School of the borough and county of Lancaster." At the same time the institution was named Franklin College "from a profound respect for the talent, virtues, and services to mankind in general, but especially to this country, of His Excellency Benjamin Franklin, Esq., President of the Supreme Executive Council."

The special object of Franklin College was to provide opportunities for the higher education of the Germans of Pennsylvania, but there was no intention to make it an exclusively German institution. The charter required that there should be instruction in "German, English, Latin, Greek, and other learned languages."

In the foundation of the new college the most eminent men of Pennsylvania took a profound interest. Benjamin Franklin was the largest individual contributor to the endowment, and is called the "founder" in cotemporary documents. Robert Morris, "the financier of the American Revolution," contributed six hundred dollars; and Benjamin Rush, "the prince of physicians" was not only a liberal patron but an active promoter of the enterprise. Among the early trustees were Generals Muhlenberg and Mifflin; Governors Snyder and Hiester; and many other men whose names are eminent in the history of the State and the Nation.

The Legislature granted to the new institution ten thousand acres of land, lying in the western portion of the state, and to this donation were subsequently added two lots of ground and the public store-house in Lancaster.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,

One of the Founders of Franklin College, Lancaster, Pa.

The land was however of little value, and many years passed before it could be sold to advantage. It was evident from the beginning that the means at hand were not sufficient to establish the institution upon a solid basis. The Faculty was able and enthusiastic. Rev. Dr. H. E. Muhlenberg, the celebrated botanist, was the first President, and after his retirement, the same position was held by the eminent scientist Rev. F. V. Melsheimer. In 1788 there were one hundred and twenty-five students, of whom twenty studied the ancient languages. The chief difficulties were financial, and after two years it was found necessary to contract the operations of the institution. During its subsequent history it was at best a good academy, until its final union with Marshall College.

The Charter of Franklin College, though in some respects liberal, was in others cumbersome and defective. Fifteen of the Trustees were required to be members of the Lutheran Church, fifteen of the Reformed, "the remainder to be chosen from any other society of Christians." In guarding the various interests represented minute regulations concerning meetings and elections were introduced, which interfered very materially with the successful working of the institution. In the meantime, however, its property was increasing in value, and it became possible to establish a college upon the old foundation. After long negotiations the Lutheran interest in Franklin College was purchased by the Reformed Church, and the interest of the outside community was regularly transferred to the same body. In this way the property and history of this ancient institution passed into the exclusive possession and guardianship of the Reformed Church.

MARCH.

MARSHALL COLLEGE.

Marshall College was founded, in 1835, in Mercersburg, Pa. It had developed out of the High School of the Reformed Church which had been founded in 1831, at York, Pa., where the Theological Seminary was at that time located. The college was named in honor of Chief Justice John Marshall, of Virginia.

Marshall College was instituted in the service of the Church, and during its entire history its highest object was Christian culture. Its first President was Rev. Dr. F. A. Rauch, a native of Germany, who had come to America in consequence of political complications in the fatherland. He was a man of great learning and ability, and his work on "Psychology" may be said to have introduced this science to the attention of American students. His early death was a great loss to the college and the church.

The Rev. John Williamson Nevin, D. D., LL. D., who had in the previous year become a professor in the Theological Seminary, succeeded Dr. Rauch in 1841 as President of Marshall College, and held this position until the removal of the institution, in 1853. As one of the foremost theologians and philosophers of the country, he naturally gave the institution over which he presided a great deal of prominence, and there were few preceptors anywhere who so fully commanded the respect and affection of their students.

THE LATE JOHN WILLIAMSON NEVIN, D. D., LL. D.,

Second President of Marshall College, and of Franklin and Marshall College.

The following gentlemen at various times held professorships in Marshall College: Sam'l W. Budd, Jr., Thos. D. Baird, Esq., Theodore Appel, D. D., Joseph F. Berg, D. D., Albert Smith, William M. Nevin, LL. D., Philip Schaff, D. D., LL. D., Traill Green, M. D., and Thomas C. Porter, D. D., LL. D.

Though Marshall College did not lack students its endowment was small, and it was only by the self-sacrificing zeal of Dr. Nevin and his coadjutors that it was preserved from serious pecuniary embarrassment. The proposals of union with Franklin College indicated a way of escape from financial difficulties which threatened to become greater with each succeeding year, and it was chiefly on this ground that they were accepted. It was painful to say farewell to Mercersburg, and especially to leave the college buildings and society halls, which had already become the shrine of many hallowed recollections; but the removal was recognized as a necessity, and it was consummated in the hope that it would lead to further advances in the cause of liberal education.

A Baptist Minister says: "In many churches the missionary sermon comes once a year, a sort of lemon-squeezer to squeeze out unwilling drops from hard-rinded Christians."

THE WRONG ANSWER.

PEOPLE sometimes say, "We must build, repair, pay a debt," or something else is to be done, "and therefore we must keep all our money at home."

Not at all. Christ has commanded you to preach the gospel in all the world, not staying at home. Besides, keeping everything at home makes people selfish, and selfishness is the death of all true religion.

TITHE-PAYING.

WE read that the Jews never counted their alms-giving a part of their tithe-paying. Yet alms-giving was always a sacred duty with them. This, however, could not begin until the tithes were provided for. Their charities must be taken out of the nine-tenths of their incomes, not out of the Lord's one-tenth.

APRIL.

Franklin and Marshall College.

THOUGH the act authorizing the union of Franklin and Marshall Colleges was passed by the Legislature in 1850, it was not until the Spring of 1853 that this union was actually consummated. For three years the sessions of the united institution were held in a building on Lime st., which had for some time been occupied by Franklin College. The present college-building was erected by the liberality of the citizens of Lancaster, and was completed in 1856. It is situated on an eminence in the north-western part of the city, in a "campus" containing about 20 acres, a great part of which is occupied by trees and shrubbery. On either side of the main college-building, whose lofty tower can be seen at a great distance, stand the Halls of the Diognothian and Goethean Literary Societies. At some distance are Harbaugh Hall, used for rooming and boarding students, and the Academy, occupied mainly by the Preparatory Department. The most recent erection is the Daniel Scholl Observatory, which, it is expected, will be of great importance in the educational work of the institution. The residences of two professors of the Theological Seminary are also situated on the "campus," which is certainly one of the most beautiful places in the vicinity of Lancaster.

EMANUEL V. GERHART, D. D.,

First President of Franklin and Marshall College; now President and Professor of Systematic and Practical Theology of the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa.

In 1871 the Theological Seminary was removed from Mercersburg to Lancaster, and since that time has occupied a part of the college-building.

The successive Presidents of Franklin and Marshall College have been: Rev. E. V. Gerhart, D. D.; Rev. John W. Nevin, D. D., LL. D.; and Rev. Thomas G. Apple, D. D., LL. D., who is the present incumbent.

Franklin and Marshall College has no enormous endowments, such as it has been the good fortune of some other institutions to receive, but its financial condition has steadily improved. It has recently received several considerable legacies and donations, and it may be said that the prospects are very encouraging. The foundations are firmly laid, and there is every inducement to earnest and unremitting labor. Every addition to the endowment can now be made to tell powerfully in the cause of higher education. Many of the alumni, who now number more than seven hundred, occupy prominent positions in church and state, and the high standard which is maintained by the institution is everywhere recognized and respected. We believe the time has come to extend its operations, and thus to secure for it the position and influence to which it is justly entitled.

GOOD FRIDAY.

ON this day the greatest possible benefits were purchased for the family of man by the sufferings and death of Christ upon the Cross. Hence this day is very appropriately called Good Friday. This is a day of special solemnity, and should be observed by all Christian people as a day of devout and affectionate meditation around the cross of a dying Saviour. "There are," says one, "but few stronger proofs of the indifference of the natural heart to Christ, than the way in which so many spend Good Friday as a day of amusement and pleasure. Christ was six hours upon the Cross in agony for us: we cannot well bear to sit one hour to hear of it."

THIRTY-THREE Missionary Societies are working in Africa.

EASTER JOY.

ON the resurrection of Christ depends the salvation of man. Without it he would have no hope (1 Cor. 15: 17-19). This accounts for the rejoicing of the Church on Easter Morning.

After passing in full sympathy with her blessed Lord through the solemnity and sorrow of Passion Week, seeing His agony, death and burial, she is prepared on Easter Morning with ecstatic joy to cry out: "The Lord is risen indeed!"

And also since His resurrection is the pledge of our blessed resurrection, and Himself makes our resurrection to depend upon receiving His true body and blood, therefore, on Easter Morning the Lord's Supper is celebrated in our churches. This has been so since the time of the Reformation.

MAY

THE CENTENNIAL AND SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

THOSE in our Church who believe the doctrine of Providence as taught in the Heidelberg Catechism, will not regard it as a mere matter of chance that the fortunes of Franklin College were united with those of Marshall in the union of the two at Lancaster. The same Lord that presided over and guided the interests of Marshall College in its early struggles, provided the relief that came by the union of the two, whereby over $50,000 were added to the endowment. This was the amount Franklin College brought as its share. Marshall was very poor indeed in money, but rich in its historic career, and so the two came to be united, much to the advantage of both.

There is good reason, therefore, that the Centennial of Franklin College should not be omitted in the celebration during this year. The original design and character of its founding, as given elsewhere, are eminently worthy of being commemorated. The founding of this College belongs to the earliest efforts of the German people of Pennsylvania to provide for their educational wants. It did not seem to succeed; but all those years of waiting were overruled by Providence for the benefit of the younger institution, founded under the immediate auspices of the Reformed Church. When the finances of Marshall were in their gloomiest condition, and when those at its head were considering whether it might not be necessary to dismiss a portion of the faculty, and reduce the College to the proportions of a High School; help came from Franklin College and saved the whole interest. Therefore we say the Centennial has no less significance in this year's celebration than the semi-centennial, and the whole celebration is a recognition of that overruling Providence which has watched over the educational work of the Church until this present year of grace.

✠ IN our times of trial we need the help of friends, and many earthly solaces offer themselves, all of which we may make use of; but God invites us not to these, but to Himself. We stop too soon if we remain with either men or angels.

THOMAS G. APPLE, D. D., LL. D.,

President of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., and Professor of Church History and Exegesis in the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa.

The Objects aimed at in the Centennial and Semi-Centennial of Franklin and Marshall.

BOTH the Alumni Association and the Board of Trustees, at their last annual meetings, specified three objects that ought to be attained as a result of the present celebration. They are as follows: (1) Provision for a chemical laboratory, and a building for libraries, museum, cabinets, reading room, etc.; the whole requiring an expenditure of about $25,000 or $30,000; (2) The endowment of the Presidency of the College, as a tribute to the memory of Dr. J. W. Nevin; (3) The completion of the endowment of the Alumni Professorship. It was stated also that these objects should be reached in the order named. The one first named is to receive immediate attention, so as to be accomplished, if possible, during the present year. The other two objects may require more time. Their attainment should be a result of the interest awakened by the present celebration throughout the Church. The accomplishment of the first will stimulate to the attainment of the other two in the near future, and the whole work can be done, we believe, in a way that will not overburden the Church. It may, at first view, seem too much for the ability of the Church, but if divided among several years, it will become entirely practicable. In order to make this appear, let us consider each one separately.

A FALLING AWAY.

IN 1714 there were 393,000 Buddhist temples and monasteries in Japan. Now there are less than 58,000—a falling off of six-sevenths of the whole number! This shows how necessary it is that Christianity be offered to them.

✠ A WRITER in the Missionsbote says that the qualifications of a good missionary are: the wisdom of Solomon, the faith of Abraham, the patience of Job, the fire of Elijah, the harmlessness of the dove, the wisdom (Klugheit) of the serpent and the love of Christ.

"What hast thou given for Me."

A minister, living in the country, received once a month, towards his personal support, the offerings of his flock. Amongst his congregation was a poor woman, who found it no easy task to live, but who dearly loved her pastor, and regularly brought her mite to the collection. All she could manage to spare was a four-penny piece, but she was exceedingly particular that this coin must be the best of its kind, and she spared no pains to send round the village, changing it again and again, that the four-penny piece she gave to the collection might be the newest and the brightest it was possible to procure. Listening to this true recital—a touching memory to the pastor—the thought came to us of the claim of the King of love upon our best, and how sometimes we try to satisfy that claim with the second place in our thoughts and devotions: Earth and heaven are His, and the value of our sufferings in human eyes to Him is nothing. The legend tells us that she who brought a wisp of straw to the hired horses dragging stones to build the house of God, laid a richer gift on His altar than all the rest, for she gave the best she had. Nothing below our best—our fullest, deepest, dearest consecration—is a meet offering for Him who for our sakes became poor.

☛ THE church tie, next to that of the home, should be the closest on the earth. When one, two or five hundred Christian people are associated together in the same church, no guild or fraternity in this world should be so closely knit as that society, or compose so real a brotherhood. It should be in the truest sense a mutual help association. Each member should know that if he is sick he will receive such ministrations of kindness as he may need; that if he is in trouble he will be sure of sympathy and aid; that if sorrow come to his home he will have all the comfort the most tender human friendship can give; that if he is in sore stress of any kind he will not be left to sink beneath his burden, but will find brotherly hands outstretched to him.

☛ SERVICE done willingly is usually done effectively. Half our failures grow out of cherishing poor dispositions.

THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING, YORK, PA., 1831-1835.

EMILY GEIGER.

EMILY GEIGER was one of the heroines of the Revolutionary War. Her father was a rich planter who was ardently attached to the cause of American liberty. All the family were members of the Reformed Church, and one of Emily's near relatives erected, at his own expense, a monument over the grave of the Rev. Christian Thews, the pioneer Reformed pastor of South Carolina.

When Gen. Nat. Greene was retreating from Lord Rawdon he learned, after he had crossed the Broad river, that the British commander had divided his forces. He was therefore very desirous to send a message to Gen. Sumter, who was then on the Wateree, requesting him to join him in an attack on the enemy; but the country which had to be traversed was full of Tories, and not a man could be found who was willing to undertake the journey. At last Emily Geiger, who was then a young and beautiful girl, volunteered to bear the message. Gen. Greene gladly accepted her services and gave her a letter, at the same time communicating its contents to her, so that she might convey the message if the letter should be lost. On the way she was arrested by the British, but watching her opportunity she tore up the letter and swallowed it. Nothing of a suspicious nature being found upon her person she was suffered to depart, and by taking a circuitous route safely reached the camp of Gen. Sumter. She told her adventure, and delivered Greene's verbal message to Sumter, who in consequence soon joined the main army at Orangeburg. On account of her important service Emily Geiger has always been regarded as one of the heroines of South Carolina. In later life she was married to a planter on the Congaree, and died about sixty years ago in the midst of a large company of mourning descendants.

☛ One good mother is worth a hundred schoolmasters. In the home she is the lode-stone of all hearts and lodestar to all eyes. Christianity should be taught at the mother's knee; it is seldom really taught elsewhere save in the school of suffering.

MEMORIAL TO DR. NEVIN.

THIS memorial, it was decided, should be the endowing of the presidency. It may not be known to all who read these lines that the presidency of the college is not endowed. In former years Dr. Nevin served as president without salary, receiving only his salary as professor in the Seminary. The present acting president of the College, Dr. T. G. Apple, receives several hundred dollars, a mere nominal salary for his services. It is easy to be seen that the presidency of the College is thus dependent on the Seminary. The Board is not entirely free to elect independently of the help the College thus receives from the Seminary. Besides, under the present arrangement the president of the College has fully two men's work resting on him.

We have not much fear that when the time comes to present this interest to the Church it will not be attended to. This should be a popular contribution. There are thousands throughout the Church who are waiting to contribute to a Memorial to Dr. Nevin. It will perpetuate the name of Nevin in the College. All that is required is to place this object before all our people and it will soon be accomplished. This will be a monument to the memory of Dr. Nevin more fitting than any other would be. In it his spirit will continue to preside over the interests of the College, as it were, and his profound philosophy, in substance, will inform the minds of students for years to come.

WANTED A MINISTER.

My dear——: O! by the way, if you learn of any one with energy, tearful interest in the conversion of souls, attractive in preaching, great-hearted, unselfish, merry; in fact, holy—let me know. Paul was much the kind of man we need. We want a man who knows all about the enemy; has some capacity for working miracles; is ready to be stoned; can teach the women, interest the children, make princes tremble, confound the Jews, convert kings, pick up sticks, earn his own living, go through fire and water for the good of others, with the expectation that they will interest themselves in him; and, in general, lead a forlorn hope of dependent followers.

The Signers of the Declaration.

THE men who, in 1776, pledged "their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor" in the cause of American Independence, have always been regarded as occupying the foremost place in the history of our country. It demanded a high degree of courage to sign the Declaration, and it is a remarkable fact that not one of the signers ever wavered in his adherence to the cause of liberty. When the War of the Revolution was over their fellow-citizens delighted in conferring honors and responsibilities on these distinguished men, and the cause of education was regarded as especially worthy of their interest and care. Accordingly, when Franklin College was founded, in 1787, no less than four of the signers were elected members of the Board of Trustees, and there is evidence to show that they were faithful in the performance of their duties. The names of these eminent men were Thomas McKean, Robert Morris, George Clymer, and Benjamin Rush.

VIEWS OF PRINCIPAL BUILDINGS ON CAMPUS,
FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL COLLEGE, LANCASTER, PA.

✦CHEMICAL LABORATORY, AND LIBRARY BUILDING.✦

THE necessity of these buildings has been brought to the notice of the church in the Messenger, especially in the able report prepared by Dr. J. S. Stahr by the instruction of the Board of Trustees. A Chemical Laboratory will cost from $6000 to $8000. A Library building may cost about $20,000; in all, say $30,000. How is this amount to be raised? This question will finally be answered by the joint-committee of the Alumni Association and the Board of Trustees, of which Dr. T. G. Apple is chairman. The committee consists of the following members, in addition to the chairman: Hensel, Cort, Gerhart, Heilman, by the Alumni Association, and Hon. A. Herr Smith, Dr. Wick-ersham, John Hager, F. Shroder, B. F. Shenk, and John D. Skiles, by the appointment of the Board of Trustees.

A committee so formidable as this need not go far beyond their own members to raise this sum for the College. We have no idea how they propose to raise it, but we presume they can find twenty or thirty persons in and out of the Board who will give the amount required. Perhaps one may be found who will give a name to the Laboratory, since a liberal lady gave a name to the Observatory. At any rate the raising of this sum ought not to burden the church, as it will most probably come from a few persons who have been holding themselves prepared to make a contribution to the college. Let it be done promptly.

✦FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL ACADEMY.✦

THIS school was established about 1837. At Mercersburg it was only a preparatory school in connection with Marshall College, the President of the Faculty being Principal. On the removal of the College to Lancaster, Pa., it came with it. A few years ago, under the Principalship of the late Prof. Cyrus V. Mays, it was changed into an Academy, and the present large and commodious building, costing $20,000, was erected. Since then it has had among its Principals Revs. Jas. Crawford and Geo. J. Mull. The present Principal is W. W. Moore, A. M., a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, whose aim is to make it a first-class Academy. It is therefore a valuable adjunct to the College.

✦ FUN AT HOME ✦

THERE is nothing like it to be found—no, not if you search the world through. I want every possible amusement to keep the boys at home evenings. Never mind if they do scatter books and pictures, coats, hats and boots! Never mind if they do make a noise around, with their whistling and hurrahing! We would stand aghast if we could have a vision of the young men gone to utter destruction for the very reason that, having cold, disagreeable, dull, stiff firesides at home, they sought amusement elsewhere. Don't let them wander beyond the reach of mother's influence yet awhile. The time will come, before you think, when you would give the world to have your house tumbled by the dear hands of those very boys; when your heart shall long for their noisy steps in the hall, and their ruddy cheeks laid up to yours; when you would rather have their jolly whistle than the music of all the operas; when you would gladly have dirty carpets—aye, live without carpets at all but to have their bright, strong forms beside you once more. Then play with and pet them. Praise Johnny's drawing, Betty's music, and baby's first attempt at writing his name. Encourage Tom to chop off his stick of wood, and Dick to persevere in making his hen-coop. If one shows a talent for figures, tell him he is a famous mathematician; and if another loves geography, tell him he will be sure to make a great traveller, or a foreign minister.

Become interested in their pets, be they rabbits, pigeons or dogs. Let them help you in home decorations; send them to gather mosses, grasses and bright autumn leaves, to decorate their room when the snow is all over the earth, and you will keep yourself young and fresh by entering into their joys, and keep these joys innocent by your knowledge of them.

THE ALUMNI PROFESSORSHIP.

THE third object named is the completion of the endowment of the professorship of English Literature and Belles Lettres. This was undertaken years ago by the Alumni, but was not completed. They now propose to carry it to completion. Over 800 names are enrolled in the list of Alumni. Some have died. Among the large number living it will not be difficult to secure the amount required to finish the work. The main difficulty consists in not being able to find them and address them personally. It is to be hoped that the present celebration will awaken new interest and zeal among them to lead to the accomplishment of this work.

THE WEST.

1. IMMIGRATION is now not only from the East west-ward, but also from the Pacific Coast eastward into the great territories of Nevada, Idaho and Montana.
2. Of the two millions of Germans in our land, a large part have settled in the Western States and Territories.
3. America is possessing the West. Lands are taken, cities are building, railroads are constructed. But are we possessing it morally and spiritually, by an adequate gift of money and laborers? Surely we shall need at least to proportion the number of schools and churches, and the agencies of true religion to the numbers of saloons, gaming-houses, dance-halls, and to make the former rather than the latter the harbingers of a refined Christian civilization.

RESIDENCE OF OUR MISSIONARY AMONG THE INDIANS, IN WISCONSIN.

“Go ye therefore.” What have you ever done definitely and actually in obedience to this commandment? In your missionary giving have you ever had this in mind? Did you follow your alms with your prayers? Or was your giving only from habit, a careless and perhaps blind act? Never forget the force of that definite, “Go ye.” Your alms to send another are instead of your own going.

The $12,000,000 paid by 130,000,000 Protestants for Foreign Missions, averages .09 each.

WE ARE A WEALTHY CHURCH.

We are not a wealthy Church in the sense in which some churches are called wealthy; but then, too, we are not a poor Church by any means. We have not much concentrated wealth, wealth in bulk, wealth centered in cities, wealth gotten rapidly and held by a progressive class; but we have great wealth widely distributed, wealth that has come slowly and is scattered among many.

Just for this reason, however, we must look for the bulk of our missionary funds not to a small class of people but to all of them. The treasury can be filled only by the giving of all. And indeed such a giving is much better than the same amount given by a few, because a much larger number is in this way interested in the work.

THE NOBLEST SERVICE.

We must not offer to God except of our best. It must be the noblest, as for Him who is noble beyond word or thought; and it must be the noblest, as ennobling us who serve Him, and making us more like Himself. It must be the happiest of services. For what is God but infinite beatitude and eternal joy? All that is right and happy comes from Him. Our worship must be happy in itself, and must be such, as while it gladdens the tenderness of God, shall also fill our souls with that abounding happiness in Him which is our main strength in all well doing and all holy suffering.—F. W. Faber.

DECEMBER.

A Minister's Usefulness.

A FAITHFUL minister of Jesus Christ says there are three lions appointed by the devil to stand in the way of a minister's usefulness, all of which he must slay if he would be a man of God, wise to win souls, and clear from the blood of all men. The first is called, "Lean to thine own understanding," and is stationed at the closet door to bar the way to secret prayer and fellowship with God. The second is called, "The fear of man," and is stationed at the pulpit door to bar the way to the hearts and consciences of men. The third is called, "Men-pleaser," and is stationed at the doors of the houses of the members of his congregation, over which the Holy Ghost hath made him overseer, to bar the way to earnest personal dealing with them as to the state of their souls before God.

MEN's lives should be like the days, more beautiful in the evening; or like the seasons aglow with promises, and the Autumn rich with golden sheaves, where good words and deeds have ripened on the field.

TEN thousand of the greatest faults in our neighbors are of less consequence to us than one of the smallest in ourselves.

CENTENARY REFORMED CHURCH, WINCHESTER, VA.

REV. S. L. WHITMORE, PASTOR.

This Church was erected originally by funds contributed by Virginia Classis, in commemoration of the Centennial celebrated by the Reformed Church in 1840.

CHRISTMAS SONG.

Light on thy hills, Jerusalem!
The Saviour now is born:
More bright on Bethlehem's joyous plains
Breaks the first Christmas morn;
And brighter on Moriah's
brow,
Crowned with her temple-
spires,
Which first proclaim the
new-born light,
Clothed with its orient fires.

"Glory to God!" the lofty strain,
The realm of ether fills:
How sweeps the song of solemn joy
O'er Judah's sacred hills!
"Glory to God!" the sounding skies
Loud with their anthems
ring:
"Peace on the earth; good-
will to men,
From heaven's eternal
King."

THE CHRISTMAS-TIDE.

OF ALL the days in the year there is but this one that awakens a common interest among the people of all Christian nations. The nations have their separate special days celebrating particular events in their own history. Our own country has its Fourth of July, its Washington's Birthday, its Decoration Day, and now its National Thanksgiving. But these days have no particular interest to the people of any other country. But here is one day of the year, the holy Christmas-tide, which belongs to all Christian nations and to all the world alike. Let the day be kept with holy merriment and universal joy. Let grateful mirth be mingled with happy song, and let every heart awake to gladness for the birth of the holy Babe of Bethlehem.

DANIEL SCHOLL OBSERVATORY.

THE sketched views of the buildings on the College Campus to be found on another page, give a good idea of this late acquisition to their number through the liberality of Mrs. Jas. M. Hood, of Frederick, Md., who contributed $10,000 towards its erection and equipment, as a memorial to her father. May the example here set be followed by those who are blessed with the means in adding to the efficiency and usefulness of the College!

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE.

WHAT are the 130 millions that belong to Protestant Churches doing for the 285 millions belonging to the Roman Catholic and the Eastern Churches, and the eight millions of Jews, and the 175 millions of Mohammedans, and the 850 millions of pagans?

They have sent out and are supporting about 3,600 missionaries and employing about 20,000 native workers, expending in this over ten millions of dollars a year.

What has been the result of the labors of these Protestant workers?

About 800,000 communicants are now gathered into the Protestant churches they have organized.

ORPHANS' HOMES.

WE can point with just pride as a Church, to the Homes set up and maintained by the Church for the care and comfort of our orphan children. We now have four, all in a good condition, whereas, a few years ago we had only one, and further back still, none. They need the support, the interest and prayers of our people. Let them be remembered!

CHURCH PAPER.

Does THE MESSENGER, the paper of your Church, pay you its weekly visits? If it does not, why is it? You lose much by not allowing it to do so. Subscribe for it at once: $2.00 per year. Have your pastor send for it for you, and pay for it in advance! You will not regret it.

MANY persons only have the gospel on or about them, not in them, and in some trying time it is torn away; indeed, it may even fall off of itself, like rags that have decayed into shreds and tatters.

PREMIUM TRACTS, Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

Circulate them! Send for a supply of each. Pastors would do well, as also pious laymen, to have a good supply of them in their pockets to hand them out as they go about their daily duties.

ALLENTOWN FEMALE COLLEGE.

An institution under the care of the East Pennsylvania and Lehigh Classes, and endorsed by the Synod of the Reformed Church. Extensive and costly improvements have been recently made. A front addition of brick, four stories high, has been built. The entire building has been refitted in the most comfortable and attractive manner. It is lighted by gas, heated by steam throughout, and supplied with bath-rooms containing all the modern comforts. It is encircled by a broad veranda, surrounded by a lawn of two acres, and shaded by stately trees. The prospect in the rear of the College is like a woodland scene, and although located in a busy city, it is virtually a rural home.

All the branches are taught, including French, Elocution, Painting and Music. The moral and spiritual welfare of the pupils will be an object of special care.

Send for Catalogue to the President,

Rev. W. M. REILY, Ph. D.,

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL COLLEGE, LANCASTER, PENN'A.

THIS INSTITUTION was organized 33 years ago by the consolidation of two older Colleges. The College buildings are situated in the midst of a campus comprising 22 acres of ground, on an eminence in the western portion of Lancaster City. There are few Colleges anywhere that have so fine a location and such beautiful grounds. True to its idea, Franklin and Marshall College has not yielded to the temptation to popularize its course of study by lowering its standard or incorporating technical studies, which properly belong to institutions of a different kind. It has no optional courses of study, in which the learner is allowed to choose for himself what he shall pursue, nor provisional or mixed classes. Its course provides for the departments of Mathematics, Ancient Languages, Natural Sciences, English Literature, History and Archaeology; the German Language and Literature, and Philosophy, embracing Mental and Moral Science and Aesthetics. THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF THE REFORMED CHURCH, located at Lancaster, is conducted under the supervision and direction of the three (English) Eastern Synods. The confessional standard of doctrine is the Heidelberg Catechism. THE ACADEMY connected with Franklin and Marshall College is designed to furnish a thorough preparatory training to those who wish to enter College, and to provide a course of instruction specially adapted to those who wish to obtain a solid Academic education as a preparation for the active duties of life.

TYPE-WRITER.

You can write much faster with the Type-Writer than with the pen, and without the fatigue which attends pen-writing. To over-worked literary men this is an important consideration.

Lectures or sermons written with the Type-Writer can be read easily, even in poor light.

Compositors need make no mistake in setting up matter written with the Type-Writer; moreover, the close resemblance of the work of the machine to printed matter enables the author to see how his work will look in print, and to correct his proof before it goes into the printer's hands.

When written with the pen, a brilliant thought or expression is sometimes lost while waiting for the pen to catch up; but the Type Writer, by its greater rapidity, and because its manipulation soon becomes purely mechanical, obviates this difficulty.

THE TYPE-WRITER IS AN AID TO COMPOSITION.

THE NEW MUSIC BOOK.

✦ Tunes for Worship. ✦

By HENRY SCHWING.

TUNES FOR WORSHIP contains a selection of tunes for use in worship. Choirs and Congregations will find it a great help to them in securing tunes of a devotional character for hymns. Professor Henry Schwing has had long experience as an organist in one of the principal M. E. Churches in Baltimore, and has devoted great study and attention to harmonization.

This collection will meet a felt want in sacred music, and will also bear reasonable criticism.

Whilst it is specially adapted to Hymns for the Reformed Church, it can also be used by any one desiring a superior collection of tunes.

It is published in two styles of binding, at the following prices:

|                           |           |                   |
